Dealer Comments

This used 2014 Ford Edge feels like a sensible companion for daily driving, with great gas mileage that keeps the stops at the pump predictable. The sedan rides comfortably and the steering wheel controls keep your focus on the road while the cruise control makes longer stretches effortless. Tinted windows add a little privacy, power mirrors make tight parking easier, and the tire pressure monitoring system helps you avoid surprises. Airbags and a security system add peace of mind for everyday life.
